The Aware™ blockchain certificate verification system issues and verifies digital certificates (Crypto TC™) on a public blockchain to immutably record material exchanges within a value chain. Each transaction generates a unique ID and hash, broadcasting across the network for verification by multiple nodes. Subsequently, it becomes part of an unchangeable block, linked to the prior one through its hash, forming an unalterable chain of blocks. This ensures that this Crypto TC™ is an unalterable source of truth, vital for reporting and mass balance calculations of materials while offering an infallible audit trail to substantiate claims.
